

WIN

Worldwide Innovative Networking
in personalized cancer medicine

2017

SYMPOSIUM

JUNE 26-27, 2017

PARIS, FRANCE

Expediting Global Innovation in Precision Cancer Medicine

Main themes

- Innovation in clinical trial design
- New avenues for target discovery
- Immunological approach to personalized medicine
- Next great steps in cancer therapy
- Predict: What and How?
- Using new knowledge in clinical trials
- Roundtable: challenges of real world implementation of Precision Medicine, and implications for other diseases

MONDAY, JUNE 26, 2017

WELCOME AND OPENING REMARKS

John Mendelsohn, The University of Texas, MD Anderson Cancer Center, USA

KEYNOTE OPENING LECTURE: Genomic-driven Clinical Studies in Breast Cancer

José Baselga, Memorial Sloan Kettering, USA

PLENARY SESSION 1: INNOVATION IN CLINICAL TRIAL DESIGN

Fit for Purpose: Using Biomarkers and Diagnostics in clinical trials, to Impact Personalized Care

Laura Esserman, The University of California San Francisco, Carol Franc Buck Breast Care Center, USA

Shifting the Clinical Trial Paradigm to Keep Pace with Rapidly Changing Cancer Biology

Donald A. Berry, The University of Texas MD Anderson Cancer Center, USA

Bayesian Adaptive Designs for Precision Medicine: Promise, Progress and Challenge

J. Jack Lee, The University of Texas MD Anderson Cancer Center, USA

Redesigning Clinical Trials in the Era of Precision Medicine: What the Science Demands

Razelle Kurzrock, The University of California San Diego, Moores Cancer Center, USA

Open Forum and Debate: New trends in clinical trial design

Moderated by Razelle Kurzrock, The University of California, San Diego Moores Cancer Center, USA and Brian Leyland-Jones, Avera Cancer Institute, USA

PLENARY SESSION 2: NEW AVENUES FOR TARGET DISCOVERY

Chromatin Remodelling – Epigenetic event and cellular memory

Geneviève Almouzni, Institut Curie, France

Challenges in determination of biologically efficacious dose for targeted agents

Giorgio Massimini, Merck Serono, Germany

PLENARY SESSION 3: IMMUNOLOGICAL APPROACH TO PERSONALIZED MEDICINE

New biomarkers for response to immunotherapy

Antoni Ribas, The University of California, Los Angeles, USA

The Complex Challenges of Stratifying Patients for Immunotherapy

Steve Anderson, Covance, USA

Apoptosis, cancer and immunity: therapeutic implications

Guido Kroemer, Gustave Roussy, France

Patient-specific peptide vaccines, alone or in combination

Hans-Georg Rammensee, The University of Tübingen, Germany

Open Forum and Debate: Place of immunotherapy approaches in precision cancer care

Moderated by Antoni Ribas, The University of California Los Angeles, USA and Jean-Yves Blay, Centre Léon Bérard, France

TUESDAY, JUNE 27, 2017

PLENARY SESSION 4: NEXT GREAT STEPS IN CANCER THERAPY

Novel models to personalize cancer therapeutics

Olli Kallioniemi, Science for Life Laboratory, Karolinska Institutet, Sweden & Institute for Molecular Medicine Finland (FIMM), Finland

Proteo genomics and the U.S. Cancer Moonshot

Henry Rodriguez, National Cancer Institute, USA

Genomic analysis of childhood tumors: therapeutic implications therapeutics

Peter Lichter, DKFZ, Germany

Cancer Genome Sequencing in a Multi-Institutional Clinical Setting “The MASTER Study of the German Cancer Consortium”

Stefan Fröhling, DKFZ, Germany

PLENARY SESSION 5: PREDICT: WHAT AND HOW?

Biomarker Research in Breast Cancer: A Journey into the Desert

Martine J. Piccart-Gebhart, Institut Jules Bordet, Belgium

Prognostic, predictive and clinically relevant biomarkers – A pharma perspective

Jean-François Martini, Pfizer Inc., USA

Funding the Future: Coverage, Policy and Innovation

Maureen Sullivan, Blue Cross Blue Shield, USA

Combining immune-based therapies with TKIs in melanomas

Caroline Robert, Gustave Roussy, France

PLENARY SESSION 6: USING NEW KNOWLEDGE IN CLINICAL TRIALS

Synthetic lethality as a basis to select drug combinations in animal models and in cancer patients

René Bernards, NKI, The Netherlands

Incorporating Liquid Biopsies into Clinical Trials to Select and Monitor Participants

Daniel F. Hayes, The University of Michigan Comprehensive Cancer Center, USA

Molecular medicine in lung cancer

Reinhard Büttner, University Hospital of Cologne, Germany

Childhood tumors

Stefan Pfister, DKFZ, Germany

Genomic Approaches to Combining Molecular Targeting Agents with Radiotherapy

Robert G. Bristow, Princess Margaret Cancer Centre, Canada

Roundtable: Challenges of real world implementation of Precision Medicine, and implications for other diseases

*Moderators: Lisa Hutchinson, Nature Publishing Group, UK; Thomas Tursz, Fondation ARC, France
Participants: José Baselga, Memorial Sloan Kettering, USA; Gerald Batist, McGill Segal Cancer Centre, Canada; Martine J. Piccart-Gebhart, Institut Jules Bordet, Belgium; Richard L. Schilsky, ASCO, USA; Otmar D. Wiestler, Helmholtz Association, Germany; Francesco De Lorenzo, ECPC, Belgium*

CONCLUDING REMARKS:

Systems Medicine and Big Data: Scientific Wellness will transform Healthcare

Leroy Hood, Institute for Systems Biology, USA

Venue

WIN 2017 will be held at Hotel Novotel Paris Tour Eiffel in Paris, France. The venue is located in the heart of Paris on the borders of the Seine river and a short distance from the Eiffel Tower. The hotel is also close to the Champs-Élysées, the Louvre and Notre-Dame.

Hotel Novotel Paris Tour Eiffel

61 Quai de Grenelle, 75015 Paris, France.

Symposium Chairmen

Gerald Batist (Canada)

Thomas Tursz (France)

Organizing Committee

Lisa Hutchinson (UK)

Razelle Kurzrock (USA)

Brian Leyland-Jones (USA)

John Mendelsohn (USA)

Amir Onn (Israel)

Richard L. Schilsky (USA)

Josep Taberner (Spain)

Vladimir Lazar (France)

Catherine Bresson (France)

Important dates

March 31, 2017

Early registration deadline

May 23, 2017

Abstract submission deadline

June 2, 2017

Notification of abstract scheduling/rejection to submitting author.
